Prolonged survival of allogeneic skin grafts in dogs treated with intradermal heterologous splenic extracts. W. H. Thomas and E. D. Coppola 103
Parabiosis intoxication: Clinical, hematologic, and serologic features. E. A. Cornelius, E. J. Yunis, and C. Martinez 112
Serum immunoglobulin levels following human renal allotransplantation: A preliminary report. V. Zühlke, S. D. Deodhar, S. Nakamoto, and W. J. Kolff 135
Influence of non-H-2 genetic factors on success in implantation therapy of W series hereditary anemias of the mouse. E. S. Russell and S. E. Bernstein 142
Factors involved in the rejection of skin transplanted across a weak histocompatibility barrier: gene dosage, sex of recipient, and nature of expression of histocompatibility genes. M. Galton 154
The prolongation of canine renal homograft function using antilymphocyte serum as an immunosuppressive agent. R. K. LAWSON, L. R. ELLIS, D. KIRCHHEIM, and C. V. HODGES 169

In vitro alteration of skin graft antigenicity. K. HELLMANN and D. I. DUKE 184
Humoral antibodies in patients after renal homotransplantation. Y. IWASAKI, D. TALMAGE, and T. E. STARZL 191
Skin-reactive heteroantibodies produced by orthotopic skin xenografts. C. A. KRAKOWER and S. A. GREENSPON 207
The failure of thymus-derived cells to produce antibody. A. J. S. DAVIES, E. LEUCHARS, V. WALLIS, R. MARCHANT, and E. V. ELLIOTT 222
The selective irradiation of canine lymph nodes by means of intralymphatic injection of ^{32}P. C. CHIBA, M. KONDO, M. ROSENBLATT, P. L. WOLF, and R. J. BING 232
The transfer of refractoriness to G-V-H disease in F_1 hybrid rats. E. O. FIELD, M. N. CAUCHI, and J. E. GIBBS 241
Immunosuppressive activity of mitomycin C. G. SAKAUCHI and C. W. DEWITT 248
Serial angiography in canine renal allografts. D. F. KNUDSEN, A. J. DAVIDSON, S. L. KOUNTZ, and R. COHN 256
Cytogenic demonstration of permanent tolerance in adult outbred dogs. R. B. EPSTEIN, J. BRYANT, and E. D. THOMAS 267
Studies on the mode of action of heterologous antilymphocyte plasma. I. A comparison of the immunosuppressive properties of dog and rabbit anti-rat lymphocyte plasma. H. F. JEEJEEBHOY 273
The effect of uremic blood on mixed leukocyte reactions and on cultures of leukocytes with phytohemagglutinin. S. KASAKURA and L. LOWENSTEIN 283
A description of rho: A non-H-2 isoantigen in RFM mice. D. M. POPP 290
A review of non-H-2 isoantigens in mice. D. M. POPP 300
Fractionation studies of human antisera containing leukocyte-agglutinating and cytotoxic isoantibodies. R. S. METZGAR and H. F. SEIGLER 310
Effect of prednisolone on the phytohemagglutinin-induced radioresistance and blastoid transformation of human lymphocytes in vitro. S. STEFANI and Y. T. OESTER 317

KIDNEY TRANSPLANT REGISTRY

Fifth Report 752

No. 4, Part 2, July 1967

Conference on Transplantation
Santa Barbara, California, January 11–13, 1967

Participants and guests 778
Foreword 788

THE LIVER

Homotransplantation of the liver. Thomas E. Starzl, Thomas L. Marchioro, K. A. Porter, and Lawrence Brettschneider 790

The association of upper gastrointestinal ulceration and orthotopic hepatic allotransplantation in the dog. F. P. STUART, E. TORRES, and F. D. MOORE 804
Experimental studies related to clinical xenogeneic liver perfusions. JOHN C. NORMAN, VICTOR H. COVELLI, WILLIAM G. HARDISON, and WILLIAM V. MCDERMOTT, JR. 809
Open discussion 820

THE KIDNEY

Introductory remarks on kidney transplantation with observations on kidney transplant registry. JOSEPH E. MURRAY and BENJAMIN A. BARNES 824
Renal transplantation at the University of Colorado. THOMAS L. MARCHIORO, PAUL I. TERASAKI, DAVID E. HUTCHISON, LAWRENCE BRETTSCHNEIDER, G. JAMES CERILLI, CARL G. GROTH, and THOMAS E. STARZL 831
Factors influencing the long term functional success rate of human renal allografts. G. M. WILLIAMS, H. J. O. WHITE, and D. M. HUME 837
Cadaver kidney transplants. J. B. DOSSETOR, K. J. MACKINNON, M. H. GAULT, and L. D. MACLEAN 844
Three years' clinical experience with cadaver kidney transplantation. SATORU NAKAMOTO, RALPH STRAFFON, and WILLEM J. KOLFF 854
Renal biopsies in long-term survivors of renal transplantation: immunofluorescent studies. O. JONASSON, H. J. WINN, M. H. FLAX, and P. S. RUSSELL 859
Instability of the complement system in patients with renal allografts. CHARLES B. CARPENTER, THOMAS J. GILL, III, JOHN P. MERRILL, and GUSTAVE J. DAMMIN .. 864
A reappraisal of the concept of organ "rejection," based on the study of homotransplanted kidneys. JEAN HAMBURGER 870
Open discussion 885

THE HEART

Progress in transplantation of the heart. NORMAN E. SHUMWAY, WILLIAM W. ANGELL, and ROBERT D. WUERFLEIN 900
Transplantation of canine cadaver hearts after short-term preservation. RICHARD J. CLEVELAND and RICHARD R. LOWER 904
Immunosuppressive therapy in the management of homo- and heterografted cardiac valves. BRUCE C. PATON, K. H. KWONG, D. CLARK, W. L. HALSETH, and R. B. HILL 909
Open discussion 913

THE LUNG AND OTHER ORGANS

Transplantation of the lung. DAVID A. BLUMENSTOCK 917
Reimplantation of the baboon lung after extended ischemia. ORN ARNAR, ROBERT C. ANDERSEN, CLAUDE R. HITCHCOCK, and JOHN J. HAGLIN 929
Experimental pancreas transplantation. J. J. BERGAN and E. D. TEIXEIRA 936
Mucosal changes incident to immune rejection of canine gastric homografts. JAMES C. THOMPSON, GARY M. NEMHAUSER, WARREN D. DAVIDSON, JAMES H. MILLER, and LUCIANO ZAMBONI 941
Open discussion 947

LYMPHOCYTE RESPONSE TO ANTIGENS

A. Afferent Side of Sensitization Arc

Response of lymphocytes to antigens. J. L. TURK 952
The role of regional lymphatics in the skin homograft response. CLYDE F. BARKER and R. E. BILLINGHAM 962
Quantitation of lymphocyte production in normal and stimulated lymph nodes. JAMES C. PIERCE 967
Open discussion 971

B. Efferent Side of Sensitization Arc

Evidence for cytopathic effects of lymphocytes. R. E. Billingham 976
Lymphocytes as mediators of cellular immunity: destruction of homologous target cells in culture. Darcy B. Wilson 986
The induction of chromosomal aberrations in vitro by allogeneic lymphocyte extract. Philip J. Fialkow 989
Studies on the migration inhibitory factor associated with delayed-type hypersensitivity: cytodynamics and specificity. Boyce Bennett and Barry R. Bloom 996
Early antibody production in relation to skin allograft reactions in mice. W. H. Hildemann 1001
Open discussion 1008

DETERMINATION OF HISTOCOMPATIBILITY

The inheritance of leukocyte antigens. D. Bernard Amos 1015
Human renal transplantation with donor selection by leukocyte typing. D. L. Stickel, D. B. Amos, C. M. Zmijewski, J. F. Glenn, and R. R. Robinson 1024
Transfer of transplantation immunity by leukocytes sensitized in vitro. J. Gordon, M. F. David-Faridy, and L. D. MacLean 1030
Serotyping for homotransplantation. IX. Evaluation of leukocyte antigen matching with the clinical course and rejection types. H. M. Lee, D. M. Hume, D. L. Vredevoe, M. R. Mickey, and P. I. Terasaki 1040
Predictive value of results of mixed leukocyte cultures for skin allograft survival in man. Fritz H. Bach and William A. Kisken 1046
Typing and immunosuppression in rats. Willys K. Silvers, Darcy B. Wilson, and Joy Palm 1053
Serotyping for homotransplantation. X. Survival of 196 grafted kidneys subsequent to typing. P. I. Terasaki, D. L. Vredevoe, and M. R. Mickey 1057
Serotyping for homotransplantation. XI. Group classification based on posterior probabilities. M. R. Mickey, D. L. Vredevoe, and P. I. Terasaki 1071
Open discussion 1079

HETEROLOGOUS ANTILYMPHOCYTE SERUM

Introductory remarks. Heterologous antilymphocyte sera and some of their effects. Paul S. Russell and Anthony P. Monaco 1086
The clinical use of antilymphocyte globulin in renal homotransplantation. Thomas E. Starzl, Thomas L. Marchioro, David E. Hutchison, K. A. Porter, G. James Cerilli, and Lawrence Brettschneider 1100
Some effects of purified heterologous antihuman lymphocyte serum in man. Anthony P. Monaco, Mary L. Wood, and Paul S. Russell 1106
Treatment with heterologous antithymus sera: nephritis associated with modification of renal allograft rejection and the immune status of the host to the foreign protein. R. D. Guttman, C. B. Carpenter, R. R. Lindquist, and J. P. Merrill. 1115
The relationship of lymphopenia production and lymphocyte agglutinating and cytotoxic antibody titers to the immunosuppressive potency of heterologous antilymphocyte plasma. H. F. Jeejeebhoy 1121
Antilymphocyte serum: summary and further observations. M. F. A. Woodruff .. 1127
Open discussion 1134

PROBLEMS OF ORGAN PRESERVATION

Introductory remarks. Organ preservation: a review. Arthur L. Humphries, Jr. .. 1138
Twenty-four hour liver preservation by the use of continuous pulsatile perfusion and hyperbaric oxygen. M. Slapak, R. A. Wigmore, and L. D. MacLean 1154
Supercooling, intermittent perfusion, and high pressure oxygen in whole organ preservation. Leslie E. Rudolf and Stanley Mandel 1159
Open discussion 1167

ABROGATION OF THE IMMUNE RESPONSE: IRRADIATION THERAPY AND LYMPHOCYTE DEPLETION

Introductory remarks. Modification of renal homograft rejection by irradiation. DAVID M. HUME and JAMES S. WOLF 1174
Modification of skin allograft immunity by extracorporeal irradiation of lymph. D. D. JOEL, A. D. CHANANA, E. P. CRONKITE, and L. M. SCHIFFER 1192
Allograft survival following antibody suppression with radioiodine-labeled antigen. MILO M. WEBBER 1198
The thoracic duct fistula as an adjunct to immunosuppression in human renal transplantation. NICHOLAS L. TILNEY and JOSEPH E. MURRAY 1204
Open discussion 1209

ABROGATION OF THE IMMUNE RESPONSE: DRUG THERAPY

Introductory remarks. Drug induced immunological tolerance and transplantation. ROBERT S. SCHWARTZ 1215
Inhibition of the afferent arc of the renal homograft response with a reticuloendothelial depressant. H. M. KAUFFMAN, L. J. HUMPHREY, L. D. HANBACK, F. DAVIS, G. E. MADGE, and M. S. RITTENBURY 1217
Methotrexate and the immune response. ALEJANDRO RIVAROLA, MARILYN FRIEDMAN, and WALTER LAWRENCE, JR. 1223
Prolongation of allograft survival by an alphaglobulin isolated from normal blood. JOHN A. MANNICK and KARL SCHMID 1231
Open discussion 1239
